4-Lane Hwy 90

Construction is scheduled to begin before the end of the month on the four-laning of U. S. Highway No. 90 west of Bay St. Louis, according to John D. Smith, Highway Commissioner for the Southern District.

Yates and Patterson, Inc., of Jackson, low bidders on a 5.5-mile project extending westward from the end of present four-lane highway at Bay St. Louis, have been issued a notice to proceed, with contract time to begin no later than May 31, Mr. Smith disclosed.

The firm submitted a low bid of $365,054 for grading, drainage, culverts and a bridge. The contract provides for completion in 200 working days.

This project is part of the plan to extend four-lane construction from Bay St. Louis to the new NASA site. Mr. Smith said engineers are pushing for early bids on additional four-lane construction.

The work will be under supervision of the Hattiesburg district office, J. F. Brownlee, district engineer; with C. D. Caraway of Bay St. Louis as project engineer.

HANCOCK COUNTY CONTRIBUTED $2,847.58 TO MARCH OF DIMES

"Mississippians showed their concern over the heavy annual toll of babies born with mental and physical defects when they gave generously to the January March of Dimes campaign."

Dr. A. L. Gray, State Health Officer and state chairman for this annual fund appeal made the above statement today as he announced that contributions for the state amounted to $316,000, an increase over last year's total of $306,000.

Hancock County citizens gave $2,847.58 according to the report of Mrs. Theo Tudury who served as campaign director.

The March of Dimes which licked polio by coming up with two vaccines, Salk and Sabin, is now concentrating its "know how" to bring birth defects under control. With one quarter million babies born each year defective in mind or body, "the task is gigantic," said Dr. Gray, who has been the state leader for the March of Dimes since 1959.

March of Dimes supported research has already produced significant gains, Dr. Gray pointed out. He noted specifically the work of Dr. Robert Guthrie of Buffalo, New York, who developed a blood test for PKU (phenylketonuria) which enables the physician to diagnose this condition early and put the child on a special diet to avoid severe mental retardation.

Similarly, Dr. Arthur Robinson, director of the March of Dimes Center in Denver, found a way to detect the presence of galactosemia, a birth defect which causes blindness as well as retardation if not discovered shortly after birth.

A Special Birth Defects Treatment Center at the University Medical Center in Jackson will begin its fifth year of operation July 1. This Center, financed by Mississippi chapters of the March of Dimes, is one of fifty in the nation where birth defect children can, in one medical institution, receive the attention of up to a dozen specialists, trained to detect and treat the multiple problems common to birth defects.

V. T. Anthony, of Jackson, regional director for The National Foundation-March of Dimes, said "These Center programs are the very heart of the March of Dimes goal to provide the best care and most effective treatment known to modern medicine for children with birth defects."

Owen Cooper, associate state chairman, joined Dr. Gray in commending county and local community volunteer workers for the success of the March of Dimes. "You have shown compassion and concern for babies born defective and for their parents who are grief stricken," said Mr. Cooper. "It is a gratifying experience to have a part in this worthy undertaking," he said.

The state leaders thanked those who gave time, effort and money. "You have joined hands," Dr. Gray said, "with some of the great scientists of our time to give them encouragement as they probe the hidden secrets of birth defects."

MRS. JOHN KOENENN ELECTED JAYCETTE PRESIDENT

Others named to office were Mrs. Russell Elliott, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph Bermond, second vice president; Mrs. Joseph Kersanac, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Campbell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roger Davis, treasurer, Mesdames Don Luxich, E. J. Marengo and Charles Poolson Jr., board members.

The group met this Wednesday night to complete plans for decorating the Jaycees hospitality room for the convention at Edgewater Gulf Hotel, Biloxi, this weekend and for the costumes to be worn during the campaign for Charles Carter, nominee for state president. Mesdames Andre Arceneaux, E. J. Marengo and Bert Stieffel will be in charge of decorations.

Among those from the local group who plan to attend the convention are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stieffel, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kersanac, Mr. and Mrs. James Heverling, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marengo, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hille, Mr. and Mrs. John Koenenn, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prendergast, Charles Carter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Haas and a number of others.

WSCS AFTERNOON CIRCLE MEETING

The afternoon circle of the Womans Society of Christian Service were guests of Mrs. J. W. Clark for their Tuesday meeting Mrs. Clark presented the program on "The church's mission in the new Nations."

During the social hour Miss May Colson, circle chairman, was honored on the occasion of her birthday and a cake trimmed in pastel pink and other party refreshments were served.

RETIRING TEACHER HONORED AFTER 41 YEARS SERVICE

Miss Luvenia Saucier, second grade teacher at S. J. Ingram school, was honored Monday night at a program in Bay High School auditorium.

Paul Raynaud served as master of ceremonies and gave the invocation and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Hannon, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, gave the benediction.

Members of the senior class, who were second grade pupils of Miss Saucier, wearing their caps and gowns, each spoke a few words.

She was presented an orchid corsage by S. J. Ingram School, a gold watch from students, parents and teachers and Prima Lee Luke, second grader, gave her a rosary on behalf of the second grade. She also received a telegram from a former faculty member, Mrs. Celine Ashcraft. Holly Ruehl presented two vocal numbers accompanying herself on her guitar and the second graders sang a song, while the large number of friends teachers and students joined in singing Auld Lang Eyne.

Miss Saucier, who has taught for 41 years in the Bay St. Louis schools, will retire this year.

BOARD LETS BIDS, PASSES RESOLUTIONS OTHER BUSINESS

The Hancock County board of supervisors at a recessed meeting Monday approve advertisement for bids for rebinding old hand written deed records in the courthouse vault and for a new dump truck for Beat One.

An annual $200 advertising donation to the Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo to be held in Gulfport this summer was also approved.

Dement Printing Company Meridian lowest bidder, $839 was awarded the contract to furnish the county with tax receipt forms.

The board adopted a resolution opposing destruction of the 80-year old light house on Ship Island and for supporting the development of Fort Massachusetts as a historical monument.

The Coast Guard is presently reviewing the proposed demolition of the lighhouse in view of the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce having enlisted the support of the Mississippi congressional delegation in efforts to save the lighthouse as an historical landmark, tourist attraction and navigation aid to small boats.

A bill has also been introduced in Congress by Rep. William M. Colmer, seeking to have Fort Massachusetts declared a national historical monument and federal park.

The board also adopted a resolution opposing the proposed closing by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad of the Waveland depot.

The board adjourned until Monday, May 24.

DR. HILAIRE OGDEN DIED FRIDAY AT WAVELAND HOME

Dr. Hilaire du Bertrand Ogden Jr., 68, died at 10 a.m. Friday, May 14, at his home on Tide Street, Waveland, following a long illness.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Final preparations for the Open House at Our Lady of the Gulf Church on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock have now been made. For the past few weeks a group of people under the leadership of Ray Stieffel, James Collins, Max Gianelloni and Al Weinfurter have been doing everything possible to insure the success of this project.

The Open House program will consist of a brief tour of the Church during which many items of Catholic Church furniture will be explained as well as Catholic teaching and devotional practice. Visitors will be invited to ask questions of their guides during the tour which will be conducted on a continuous basis during the 2 hour period from 2 to 4 o'clock on Sunday, May 23.

A Special feature of the Open House will be a program of Sacred Music to be presented by the Senior Choir at 3:45 p.m. The choir is composed of mixed voices and is under the direction of Mrs. J. K McKenna.

As the visitors complete their tour of the Church they will be invited to the Parish Hall for a Social hour which will be conducted by the ladies of the Altar Society.

The priests and people of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish extend a very cordial invitation to their non-Catholic friends to come to this first Open House program which is being presented in the ecumenical spirit of our times.

SPECIAL CLASSES AT PEARL RIVER J.C.

In order to meet the urgent need for secretarial and clerical workers, Dean Marvin R. White has announced plans to offer typing 101-102 and shorthand 101-102 for the summer session at Pearl River Junior College.

A minimum of ten students is required for a class. Registration will begin on June 7, at 7:30 a.m. in the college library.

NAMED "NURSE OF THE YEAR" AT OCHSNER'S

Miss Joy Monti, R. N., was named "nurse of the year" during a special awards ceremony Wednesday night at Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

Miss Monti, head nurse on the fourth floor of the hospital, is the ninth recipient of this annual award.

A native of Bay St. Louis, Miss Monti is the daughter of Mrs. Pedro Monti and the late Mr. Monti and a granddaughter of Ralph S. Blaize. She graduated from St. Joseph Academy in 1947, attended Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond, La., and was a graduate of the Hotel Dieu School of Nursing Class 1954, New Orleans, where she was on the nursing staff for three years.

She has been at Ochsner's for the past eight years.

Going in for the occasion were her mother and uncle, Osmond Blaize.

DR. ODOM SPEAKS TO CYO MEMBERS

Dr. Paul Odom spoke to members of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Youth Organization Monday night at the Parish Hall.

Dr. Odom discussed the dangers of alcohol in relation to teenagers.

Jaynell Kingston, CYO president, presided over the business session.

Plans were made for summer activities which will include a hayride, dance, movie and many other attractions.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Peter Benvenutti, adult advisors, met with the group.

VALEDICTORIAN

Stephen Lee Poindexter, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Poindexter, will deliver the valedictory address at Christ Episcopal Eighth Grade Commencement exercises May 29. Stephen had a 94.17 average.

Laura Frances McCants, daughter of Mrs. Francis McCants, Long Beach, who finishes with a 94 average, is salutatorian of the class.

C. J. Guiteau Jr., Pass Christian area resident, who changed his pleading to guilty to uttering forgery, was given a suspended two-year penitentiary sentence and placed on probation for two years by Judge Leslie B. Grant in Circuit Court Monday.

The case, set for trial Monday, stemmed from a January indictment.

The case of Lewis Warren Hart, charged with child desertion and neglect, and two election cases, Mrs. Melva M. Necaise versus Jack Lott, involving the March 6 special election for Beat Four supervisor; and Clifton J. Ladner versus Eric Larsen, involving member of Best Four county board of education were continued until next Monday for call.

A hearing was also held Monday for Hamilton Morel Jr., a former Bay St. Louis resident, charged with defaulting on child support payments under terms of a 1963 court probation order.

Judge Grant ordered Morel, now residing in New Orleans, to pay a $50 fine and court cost within 30 days and also to make support payments of at least $80 per month to a probation officer in New Orleans for support of his four minor children.

Tuesday afternoon a jury found for the defendant in the trial of a civil damage suit based on an automobile accident.

George Carl Johnson, a resident of Harrison County, had sought a judgment of $25,000 in a suit brought against Mrs. Ruth A. Carlson, Bay St. Louis.

Johnson claimed he was injured August 10, 1964, when his car stopped in traffic west of the intersection of U. S. Highway 90 and U. S. Highway 49 in Gulfport and was struck in the rear by the Carlson vehicle.

Mrs. Carlson claimed the Johnson automobile had pulled in front of her car and stopped suddenly without warning.

First - week petit jurors were discharged by Judge Grant after a verdict was reached in the case.

Court recessed until Friday.

APPOINTMENT OF BENVENUTTI ANNOUNCED

The announcement of the appointment of Joseph Benvenutti as District Deputy, District Four, Knighs of Columbus, was made at Monday night's meeting of Pere Le Duc Council.

HUNDRED TO ATTEND AA CONVENTION IN JACKSON

Hundreds of Mississippians, many of whom might be among the business, professional and civic leaders, will be among those registered at the Eighteenth State Convention of Alcoholics Anonymous in Jackson, Mississippi on June 4, 5 and 6, according to a spokesman for the group.

These men and women, all of whom suffer from the illness of Alcoholism, have found that they can live normal, useful and successful lives free from their former dependency upon alcohol.

The convention will be highlighted by guest speakers from all over the country, whose experiences with alcoholism, and their inspirational comebacks to society offer strength and hope to other alcoholics.

One of the most effective combatants against alcholoism is public understanding. Those interested in learning more about this Recovery Program are urged to contact the local group of Alcoholics Anonymous.

TOP MISS. GOLFERS TO COMPETE IN JAYCEE TOURNAMENT

OXFORD, Miss. — Mississippi's top young golfers will compete in the Mississippi Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament to be held at Oxford on July 25 through 27.

Some 125 18-year-old-and-under golfers are slated for the competition which will select the state's top golfer who will represent Mississippi in the National Jaycee Golf Tournament in Houston, Texas on August 8 through 13.

Jimmy Day of Laurel, last year's winner in the Mississippi Tournament, won the national competition.

The Mississippi State Tournament this year is sponsored by the Oxford Jaycees and will be held on the Oxford Country Club course and the University of Mississippi's new 18 hole course.

The tournament play will be the first major work-out for the new Ole Miss course which is being billed as a championship course. It covers a 380 acre tract of land, and although not all the holes are yet completed, those that are will be in top shape for the junior golfers first tee shots.

Old English Proverb: "Industry is fortune's right hand, and frugality her left." That could explain the popularity of the Payroll Savings Plan for U. S. Savings Bonds with both employers and employees.

... Always in the picture of Mississippi Progress!

Your EPA (Electric Power Association) is always in the picture of progress providing power for industry, power for business, power for farm.

Without EPA electricity, most of Mississippi would be right back where it was in 1935 ... and that would be a bleak outlook, indeed.

But your EPA is a fact of life ... and a factor in progress. With it, power is available for new business, new industry, new farming operations and for expansion of those already here. Providing the best possible service at the lowest possible cost has always been our basic intent and purpose. Growth, expansion and progress have been the result.

Everyone knows that business grows where a power line goes ... and EPA power-for-progress lines go to more than 252,000 farms, homes, industries, and businesses throughout the state.

Your EPA is always in the picture of Mississippi progress.

Expert Answers Rose Questions; Stresses Need for Proper Feeding

The rose is the most popular flower in America—and, unfortunately, the most frequent victim of improper care.

Responding to requests from a number of rose enthusiasts, Robert J. Fulton, graminologist at Heritage House Products, has compiled a list of the questions he's most often asked regarding roses. Here is Mr. Fulton's list, together with his answers.

Q. My roses get lots of sun and water, yet still don't seem to be doing well. What could be wrong?

A. I find two common mistakes being made by many rose enthusiasts and either one could be the culprit here. One is simply that roses are planted too deep, often without any allowance for settling. The second reason for rose failure is improper or insufficient feeding. Roses are heavy feeders and should be fed a high-nutrient rose food rich in phosphorus to help the rose develop sufficient roots to support its heavy system of branches. I prefer an 8-14-6 formula with an organic base. Whatever the choice, the rose food should be complete—that is—one that contains nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

Q. I've tried a number of plant foods on my roses and haven't gotten really satisfactory results from any. Why?

A. Roses prefer a slightly acid soil of the type found in most parts of the country except for the so-called "lime belt." And yet, many of our most popular fertilizers are so constituted that they can't release their nutrients properly in acid soil. Heritage House, on the other hand, has formulated its new rose food especially for acid soil [illegible] leaves. As rose fanciers know, the more leaves a plant develops, the more blooms it will bear.

Q. When should roses be fed?

A. It's not possible to give a definitive answer here since so much depends on the type of rose and the climate. The Heritage House rose food box contains a detailed feeding chart that's of great value. In general, roses should be fed twice before the first blooming, once after each blooming and once again in the fall. It's always better to give roses a number of moderate feedings than one or two extremely heavy ones.

Q. How can I combat the beetles and other insects that attack my roses?

A. Insects can be destroyed either in the grub or adult stage, the former usually being easier. Since grubs generally live in the lawn areas adjoining rose beds, I suggest using a product like Three-In-One which contains Chlordane to kill beetle grubs in the soil. For adult beetles and insects, I recommend an aerosol spray, such as Rose and Flower Aid, which kills mites, beetles and other insects. This new-type aerosol contains both pyrethrins and rotenone so that it's sure death to both the chewing and sucking insects.

Q. How can I identify the various rose diseases?

A. This is a problem that baffles even the experts. Rather than try to identify the disease after it's all but destroyed your roses, it's wiser to prevent most fungus diseases by regular spraying with Rose and Flower Aid. This newly-[illegible] aerosol spray con- [illegible]

OUTLINE OBJECTIONABLE FEATURES OF VOTING RIGHTS BILL

(By Senator John Stennis)

WASHINGTON — As the debate on the Voting Rights bill continues, those of us who are opposed to it are daily pointing out the many unreasonable and unconstitutional provisions it contains. One of the most objectionable features of it is the requirement that all voting rights matters under it must be tried in the District Court of the District of Columbia instead of in the local district.

It is unthinkable that Congress, particularly with a membership possessing such long experience in the Government, would go as far as the bill attempts to go in taking away from the courts the entire judicial system that functions in the jurisdiction where cases may originate. That is unthinkable to me. It is contrary to the spirit of the Constitution of the United States. It is conrary to precedents. It is contrary to the wisdom and experience that should be possessed by those in government. It is a slap in the face. It is more than that. It is a kick in the face to the Federal judicial system and the men who sit on that bench, not only in the South, where the law is designed to apply, but it is also an insult to the entire judical system of our great Nation.

I have some knowledge and feeling for the duties and responsibilities of a trial judge. I was once so honored myself and carried on the duties of a trial judge with unlimited jurisdiction for 11 years. I know something of the things that vex a person. I know how irritating the cases, the docket, or even public opinion can be.

I cannot say that I know much about the pressure that may be put on a judge, because in my State, people have such a high regard for the judiciary that they are not in the habit of trying to put pressure upon a judge.

All judges should be free of intimidation by Congress. What we are doing, if the law is enacted is intimidating the judicial system, not only in the South, but throughout the Nation. We are setting a precedent that leaves the door wide open to some other group at some other time when other emotions are aroused to come to Congress and say, "We will not let the judge in Illinois or Indiana or Iowa or Kansas, or any other State involved, sit in these cases. They are not worthy of it. We will take it out of their hands and vest the case in a court a thousand miles away from where the incident happened.

Every judge will be condemned by Congress, so long as this question is before us. It will downgrade the office they hold. There are very few of them to which the accusation could apply. I am not the spokesman of the Federal bench, but as a member of the bar, and a proud one, and as a Member of this body, I believe the Department of Justice should be opposing such legislation as this and protecting the judiciary, rather than sponsoring this type of legislation and helping to have it passed.

I am told that some members of the Attorney General's staff look upon a district judge or court as a mere administrative office. Some members of the staff feel that when they appear before these district judges, it is their preordained feeling that they carry with them a halo that entitles them to special consideration and special disposition of the matters which they present.

We have grown into the habit over the years of letting the very Department of Justice that is besmirching these judges and distrusting them and telling Congress that it ought not to let them try these cases, have too much control and interest and disposition as to who is going to be a judge in the first place.

I do not believe that on any single subject under the shining sun, except on the subject of civil rights, the Senate would tolerate for 10 minutes such a provision in the jurisdiction of the courts in State after State after State, and from the local courts in those States.

SIXTH BIRTHDAY

WHO OWNS THE EARTH?

By Donald T. Click
Soil Conservation Service

The first words of history read, "In the beginning God created Heaven and Earth." (Gen. 1:1). Man likes to think of himself as owner and master and may hold a deed to a piece of property and say it is his to do as he pleases, but the Bible says "The earth is the Lord's . . ." God gave man dominion over the earth but he also gave him a responsibility; a responsibility of caretaker of the soil. When the word stewardship is mentioned the church-goer ordinarily thinks of money. Stewardship involves much more than money. It involves all the resources and talents God has so abundantly bestowed upon us, including that precious few inches of topsoil that all mankind depends upon for subsistance. In this land of ours where only a small percent are involved directly with farming some people seldem see things actually growing. But our livelihood still comes from the soil, and we are stewards of this earth that God has committed to our care.

We in America have a surplus of certain foods and complain about it while three-fourths of the world goes hungry. We pay twenty percent of our earnings for food. Many nations pay 40 to 80 percent. Highways, subdivisions, industries, and shopping centers are putting a sterile concrete blanket over fertile soil that will never grow another crop. Yet man is still mistreating the land with no thought of to-morrow or the increasing needs of the next generation.

There is no guarantee of adequate food or water forty years from now. In this 'promised' land of our water shortages are already showing up in some of our larger cities.

The scripture passage that speaks of children being punished for the sins of their fathers might well have application to the land that has passed down to this generation as an inheritance. The biggest punishment that landowners of the past have inflicted upon their children has been the loss of soil values caused by improper farming. It is up to [illegible] to see that this [illegible] committed during our [illegible].

History relates many [illegible] stores of result of soil abuse. It tells us of whole civilizations that vanished leaving little to remind us that people once lived in ease and comfort on wide areas of the earth's surface which are now mostly desert.

Responsible stewardship of the land is not something dreamed up by the Department of Agriculture. It is as old as the Ten Commandments. The Hebrew children were taught to allow the land to rest at regular intervals. This year of rest was an ancient example of our modern soil conservation principles.

Former chief of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Hugh H. Bennett, once said, "Productive soil is God's most priceless gift to man." The power of life itself is in the soil and God paid us the high compliment of putting this power at our disposal; to 'use' or 'abuse'."

In a sermon on soil stewardship the following story was told.

"On Nov. 1, 1940 the Farmer Stockman published pictures of a gullied field and deserted house. They offered a cash prize of $25.00 to the inividual who submitted the best 100 word story describing the pictures. The winning story written by E. O. Enfield, of Rahahoe, Oklahoma, is reproduced here below.

"Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big tepee. Plow hill, water wash, wind blow soil, grass gone, deer gone, squaw gone too. Papoose gone, no chuckaway, no pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony.

"Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide made tepee, make moccasin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, all time eat. No hunt job, no hitch-hike, no ask relief, no shoot pig. Great spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work, white man heap loco."

The Psalmist has said, "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." Let us remember these words as we observe Soil Stewardship Week May 23-30 along with Soil Conservation Districts throughout this land. Let us remember these words realizing our dependance upon God for life itself and the obligation we have as stewards.

Over the weekend fresh water fish were caught in the morning when the tide was low but none were caught in the evening when the tides were all over the banks. The water in Pearl River proper is still a little murky but should be ok by next week. Parker Bayou and Bayou Bogue Homa are clear at the head and some green trout and perch were cuaght at those bayous over the weekend. The waters west of Pearl River are clear and fish are being caught regularly both by fly fishing, casting and still fishing. Worms, oak and catalpa worms are ideal for perch and green trout.

Woody Bryant caught some nice perch Saturday while fishing with worms in Bogue Homa Bayou. Woody loves to still fish and knows how to get them.

Speckles are still being caught in outside waters and some off the R. R. bridge, Highway bridge and along the seawall from Waveland to Bayou Caddy.

Some specks ran as high as 3 pounds. Reports are that speckles are beginning to move up Jordan River and some good speckle trout fishing can be expected soon.

The shrimping season in Louisiana opened on May 15th, which is good news to all, especially to fishermen to know that you can be able to purchase fresh shrimp for bait as well as for eating purposes. In our book shrimp can't be beat as a table delicacy whether boiled, fried, in gumbo or used in a hundred ways while cooking. Bait shrimp can be bought for about ½ the price we have been paying for frozen shrimp put up about 6 months ago. Live shrimp cost from 2 to 3 cents each. A good way to keep shrimp green and fresh is to buy block ice for the ice box and lay the shrimp on a cloth laid on the ice. Of course a well in the boat will keep shrimp alive for days provided the water is not too hot or too shallow. Getting the shrimp to the boat is a problem if you have to bring them too far. Fill a tub with water, cover with a sack on which you place a small piece of ice and put a couple of aspirin in the water. This will help a great deal. The Mississippi opening date for shrimping will be announced soon.

For catching speckles fishermen have found that artificial plugs will get there share of fish. There are many types of lures and we think the best to use here is the Shad Rig, Sidewinder, or most any kind of plug with a trailer. Geo. Wedemeyer said last week he was using a Shad Rig and was catching two specks at a time. It's the bait at this time.

For those who are patrons of Roy Baxters Fishing 'Camp and others we wish to announce that Roy has moved his camp from Logtown to Pearlington, Miss. where he has a nice set up. Boats and motors can be rented and soon bait can be purchased. Roy is a congenial and likable fellow and his aim is to satisfy his customers. His new location is opposite the Justice of the Peace office on the Pearlington-Logtown road.

Bill Witter was over from New Orleans for the past week [illegible] and did his share of fishing. Bill waits for a time he can be back home and he gives the fish a hard time. He and his boat are constant companions and cover a lot of territory.

J. Russ of Hattiesburg, Miss. was down last week and on one trip caught 66 speckles along the R. R. bridge. Mr. Russ said he loves his fishing and comes down on every occasion. He is strictly a live bait fisherman and knows his stuff when it comes to catching specks and other salt water fish. He has a home at Pass Christian Iles. C. H. Brockmeyer of the Isles is one of his buddies and takes care of his boat.

Another new camp and trailer park is the Changrila Fishing Camp at the head of Cowand Bayou on Highway 90 near Pearington. Fishermen's accommodations can be found here and fishing is ideal in this section. There is also a ramp at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Graf of New Orleans are building a permament home near Jordan River and can't wait to come over. They are both ardent fishermen. As she put it "I am the former Alabama gal that lured that Iowa farm boy to a place where we can do salt water fishing." There is plenty of it around here, Folks. The price is right, $2.00 for a subcription to The Eagle.

If all goes well, the fishermen of Mississippi are in for some excitement in the not-too-distant future.

The fisheries division of the Game and Fish Commission has obtained and distributed some 240,000 striped bass fry in the north Mississippi reservoirs, Sardis, Enid, and Grenada.

The fish is the same as is found running up the streams of both the east and west coasts of the United States. When fully matured, the striper reaches a weight of 60 pounds or more.

Bobby Towery, fisheries biologist, has stocked the above mentioned resevoirs with 40,000 fry each. In cooperation with Bob Bryant, Hatchery Superintendant of the National Fish Hatchery located at Tupelo, Towery is attempting to raise the remaining 120,000 to a larger size before releasing them.

The young stripers were two days old when they were obtained and measured approximately one-fourth of an inch in length.

Those retained at Tupelo are being treated in two ways. Approximately 80,000 were released in a pond provided by the hatchery. They will be protected in this pond from predation and will be provided an ample supply of mircroscopic plants and animals upon which they may feed.

The other 40,000 are being held in a trough where the personnel of the hatchery are attempting to feed them artificially. This group can be closely observed to see how they are growing, and if this system is successful, a greater number can be handled if more fry are obtained in the future.

"We probably will not know what success we have had with this stocking for two or three years." stated Barry Freeman, Chief of Fisheries.

We would like the Commission to know that if the experiment is successful we could use some of these fish in our section of the state.

J. D. Hair, Jr., director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, today called attention of all boat owners and operators to State and U. S. Coast Guard regulatinos regarding life preservers and buoyant vests.

"With the late spring and summer boating season getting into full swing, it is required that all boats carry one Coast Guard approved life preserver or vest, or approved buoyant cushion for each person on board in the interest of safety," he said.

He added that in setting up state regulations under the Louisiana Boating Law, the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission had adopted the same regulations of the Coast Guard.

This safety precaution should be observed by all boat owners and operators everywhere.

Frogging time is now here and from our observations frogs are most everywhere there is water. They are easy to catch if you know how and are one of the best table delicacies to be found. Frogging is a sport in itself.

And, for those of you who fancy frog legs, the reason they're so expensive is that, after spending a whole night paddling a pirogue through the swamps, and perhaps tangling with a snake or two, a frogger may come up with as few as four or five of the critters.

A mere 25 frogs in considered a good catch.

DISCUSSES PLANS FOR BRIDGE STUDY WITH ENGINEER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Representative Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.) met last Wednesday with the President of the engineering firm hired by the Mobile District Engineer to make a comprehensive study to determine what bridge clearness on Interstate Highway 10 are necessary to meet the needs of transportation and of indusrial development in the southeast Mississippi area.

President W. David de Laureal of the firm of de Laureal and Moses, Inc., of New Orleans and Gulfport, Mississippi, told the Congressmen that he was calling on him for his views as he or representatives of his organizetion would call, over the next few months, on all agencies and individuals interested in the bridge clearence problem. He said that his firm hoped thus to arrive at a report based on fact and on the best judgment of the port, county, State, and Federal authorities in position to know what growth can reasonably be expected in the area.

The Mississippi Congressmen, who had expressed concern lest low bridges over the six streams crossed by the proposed highway choke industrial development in his fast growing district, praised Colonel R. C. Marshall, the Mobile District Engineer, for his "practical, realistic approach" to the problem. He assured President de Laureal that he was pleased with the firm's planned procedure and would look forward with great interest to its report.

...ddition of a new 250,000-kilowatt generating unit, Plant ...'s capacity will double. The new unit, which will be ...rights, will extend the present structure 43 feet to the east ...as tall as a 13 story building.

Plans..

Plans for construction of a $28.6-million addition to Mississippi Power Company's Plant Jack Watson, between Gulfport and Biloxi, were announced today by company president A. J. Watson, Jr.

According to the power company executive, construction of a 250,000-kilowatt unit, which will double the generating capacity of the present plant, is scheduled to begin in the fall of this year with the unit to be commercial operation by the summer of 1968.

Mr. Watson said that the company, which has its general offices in Gulfport, today filed with the Mississippi Public Service Commission a petition requesting a certificate of convenience and necessity to construct the additional unit at the steam-elecric generating station.

The additional unit will increase Plant Jack Watson's total generating capability to 512,000 kilowatts and its total cost to $62.[illegible] million. The generating plant, which began operation in 19[illegible], is the largest on the company's system. Presently has two 7[illegible],000-kilowatt units and a 112,000-kilowatt unit. The company has two other generating stations — Plant Eaton, near Hattiesburg, and Plant Sweat, near Meridian.

The turbo-generator will be capable of producing about 2,190,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity a year, enough electric power to supply the needs of 442,000 Mississippi homes. When the unit is completed, the company's generating capacity will total 859,500 kilowatts, more than twice the company's present generating capability.

Currently under construction, and scheduled to go into operation in June, 1965, is a 150-000-kilowatt unit at the Greene County (Ala.) Generating Plant, built jointly with Alabama Power Company. The company will receive 40 percent of its output. A second unit of like size will go into operation in mid-1966.

"The doubling of generating capacity in the next three years dramatically underscores our faith in Mississippi and her progress and our constant determination to stay well ahead of the electrical requirements of our 122,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers," Mr. Watson said. He also pointed out that, since the ready availability of abundant, low-cost electric power is an essential factor in industrial location, the new generating facility will help the utility to continue to meet the spiraling costs of production while providing additional impetus to industrial growth in Southeast Mississippi.

Mr. Watson explained that electricity generated by the new unit will be delivered to customers via the company's more than 4,793 miles of transmission and distribution lines and 159 substations and will be in integral part of The Southern Company system, which has a capacity of seven-million kilowatts.

About 400 highly skilled construction workers will be employed at the plant site and construction time is estimated to reach 750,000 man hours over the two-and-one-half year period.

The structure housing the new unit will rise about 159 feet above the ground, the height of a 13 story building. This is about 40 feet higher than the building housing the present plant. Some 12,000 yards of concrete will be used in its foundation.

The new unit will be operated by steam at a pressure of 2,400 pounds per square inch and 1,000°F temperature. It is estimated that materials to be used in the construction of the unit will fill more than 500 freight cars.

As an asset of an investor-owned utility, Mr. Watson said that the new facility would be fully taxed.

BUGGIES to Bombers in a Lifetime

The other day Grandad read an account in our newspaper about the miraculous speed of a B-58 bomber. He contrasted this accomplishment with the experience in his youth when he spotted his first airplane five miles outside of town—and then rode a bicycle into town in time to see the plane circling the capitol building.

It seems incredible the technological advances mankind has made in the past fifty years. Men who rode to Sunday School by horse and buggy as boys, today follow the flight of astronauts on TV. Their wives do the family laundry with the twist of a dial, and their grandchildren learn Algebra from programmed textbooks.

One unchanging fact remains. Man still needs God as the center and circumference of his life. And the Church, as God's expression, remains constant in the teaching of His Truths.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
